Best Practices in Implementing You Can Do It! Education

Presented by the Founder of YCDI: Professor Michael E. Bernard
Melbourne Graduate School of Education, University of Melbourne

"The most widely used (social-emotional learning) program is You Can Do It!...established by Professor Michael Bernard of the University of Melbourne...used by more than 5000 early childhood centres, primary and secondary schools." The Age, April, 2008

Friday 26th March 2010

Semaphore Surf Lifesaving Club Adelaide
'Point Malcolm Reserve', 1 Military Road, Semaphore

Time: 8.45 am – 3:30 pm

Fee: $180.00 (includes morning tea, lunch, handouts and participation certificate)

Who Should Attend: School administrators, YCDI coordinators, teachers and mental health practitioners from early learning centres, primary and secondary schools.

- For schools already trained in YCDI, send your YCDI coordinator for refresher training as well as new teachers to catch up with current staff at your school
- For schools not using YCDI, find out the latest information about Australia's leading social emotional learning program
- Integrate YCDI in your one- and three-year school development plan (student health and well-being)
- Re-invigorate YCDI at your school
- Hear from other participants how YCDI is successfully conducted at their school

Workshop Content:

The content of the workshop will focus on how to build the critical mass of practices necessary for YCDI to impact the educational outcomes of all students including: role of principal, management, staff professional learning, assessment and accountability, school-wide practices, parent education and many more practices.
